LISBON. July 22.

ADmiral Haddock is cruizing off Cape Vincent. He has been with his Squadron into the Bay of Cadiz, and was in full sight of the Spanish Squadron, but as they did not care to venture out, he thought proper to withdraw.

Brussels, July 23. They write from the Frontiers of France, that several Regiments had begun to quit their Quarters to go to the Maese. And from Dunkirk, that Privateers are fitting out at that Place to cruize; and that Ships are made use of for that Purpose which were design'd for the West-Indies. 'Tis added, that the Port is putting in a Condition to receive large Ships.

Francfort, July 24. The Marshal de Bellisle came back here last Monday from Paris, and is preparing to set out towards the End of the Week for Bavaria, to take upon him the Command of the Army there. It is confirm'd, that the French Troops will begin to pass the Rhine the 4th of next Month, every thing being ready for that Purpose; it is divided into three Bodies, the first of which consisting of 20,000 Men will pass near Huningen; the second, which consists of the same Number, over against Strasbourg; and the third near Fort-Louis.

Paris, July 21. The Spanish Ambassador is preparing to give a grand Entertainment on Account of the raising of the Siege of Carthagena by the English

LONDON, July 28.

They write from Lisbon of the 11th Inst. O. S. than an Algerine Man of War of forty Guns had lately taken a stout Spanish Privateer, and sunk another; and had also taken several Portuguese Ships. These Letters add, that a Swedish Ship arrived the 22d of June in that Harbour; the Master thereof says he parted with Sir John Norris and Admiral Cavendish the 17th of that Month, between Ferrol and Cape Finister, whose Squadron consisted of nineteen Ships of the Line, six of which were three deck Ships, besides four Fire ships, Frigates, &c.

On Friday last Capt. Page of the Francis, who took a Prize in his Passage from Oporto, waited on Sir Charles Wager with some Dispatches of great Importance that were found on board the said Ship, which Prize is worth 6000 l. The said Captain chas'd a Spanish Privateer off Scilly, and also attacked off Falmouth one of our Store ships, that then appeared under Spanish Colours.

Dunkirk, July 29. Yesterday arrived in Town the Chevalier Bart, who assured our Merchants he was ordered to acquaint them to fit out Privateers with all Expedition, and not to let their Ships proceed on any Voyages whatsoever; and in case they were not provided with such Vessels as were proper, they might with all safety secure some immediately.

We have had here some time past, three Demi-Galleys and a large whole Galley, which were sent from Havre de-Grace; they are very pretty Boats, rigg'd like Sloops, set round with Swivels, and have one Carriage Gun at their Heads, no Decks, but row with a Number of Oars, and doubtless go exceeding well. Every Day at low Water vast Numbers of People are employ'd in cleaning the Harbour; and they are hard at Work in repairing the way down to the Mouth in order to rebuild the Piers. I leave you to judge the Consternation People are in here, I mean the English; for the Flemings wish for nothing more than a War, in order to go a Privateering.

London, July 30. A Thousand Tons of Water are order'd to be sent immediately to Sir John Norris's Fleet, from whence it is conjectured his Errand is at a greater Distance than Ferrol.

We hear that in a few Days Orders will be given for repairing the Fortifications of all his Majesty's Castles throughout Great-Britain.

On Tuesday Night one of his Majesty's Messengers arriv'd Express from Hanover at the Duke of Newcastle's Office, who brought an Account that his Majesty was in good Health, and that it was expected he would return to England by the beginning of October next.

Yesterday it was reported, that 14 Spanish Men of War, were taken by Sir John Norris.

The Paris A-la-main of Friday last says, that all the General Officers appointed to command the 26 Regiments of Horse and Dragoons that are marching to Bavaria, are already gone or going to Strasburgh, and thence to proceed to the general Rendezvous, from whence the Troops are to set out in three Columns, viz. the first on the 4th of next Month, the second on the 7th and the third on the 10th; it adds, that they are to be commanded by the Marshal de Bellisle, and that the Prince de Soubise, the Chevalier d'Harcourt, and the Chevalier d'Courten are appointed his Aids de Camp.

'Tis reported, but with what Grounds we know not, that Admiral Pizarro in endeavouring to get round Cape Horn after Commodore Anson, met with a violent Storm, in which the Admiral & three of his Squadron were lost.

August 1. The News of Commodore Anson's having got round Cape Horn, and the Spanish Admiral not being able to follow him, is an Affair of such Consequence, that the Improvements which so vigilant a Commander as Admiral Vernon will make of it, may amply make amends for the Disappointment of a conjunct Expedition; For it is said that Spain can now be more sensibly hurt than even by taking Carthagena.

Aug. 8. We hear that a Battalion of Brigadier St. Clair's Regiment of Foot in Ireland has Orders to go to America.

And

And that the Right Hon. the Lord Tyrawley, Major General of his Majeſty's Forces, is to embark with them, being, as 'tis ſaid appointed Commander in Chief of the Forces in the Weſt-Indies.

Auguſt 15. A General Embargo on Shipping is fear'd every Hour; for which Reaſon many of the Maſters of foreign Veſſels crowded Yeſterday at the Cuſtom-Houſe to get their Ships clear'd out.

The King of Sweden's Declaration of War againſt the Czar of Ruſſia.

WE Frederick, by the Grace of God King of Sweden, &c. make known by theſe Preſents to all our faithful Subjects, that in Conſideration of the frequent Injuries, which have from time to time been done to us and to our Kingdom by the Ruſſians, as more amply appears by the Manifeſtoes which have been publiſhed upon this Subject, as alſo in Conſideration of the publick Violations of Treaties and Alliance which have hitherto ſubſiſted between the two Powers, for the Security and Proſperity of our Kingdom, and of our faithful Subjects, we have been forc'd to take Arms under the Divine Protection, and to declare War in Conformity thereto, as we do by the Preſents, againſt the reigning Czar. So that from the Day of the Date of theſe Preſents we forbid, under Pain of Death, all Navigation, Commerce, Correſpondence of what kind ſoever, with the Provinces, Ports, Cities and Places in the Empire of Ruſſia.

Wherefore we will and ordain our Governor General in Pomerania, and all our Commanders, as well by Sea as Land, to direct Things in ſuch a manner that our preſent Will may be immediately made publick, and alſo that they contribute all in their Power to the ſpeedy Execution and exact Obſervation of this Declaration, whereunto all and every of them are to conform themſelves: In Witneſs whereof we have ſign'd theſe Preſents with our own Hand, and have put thereunto our Royal Seals.

Done at Stockholm in Council, the 24th of July, 1741, O. S

Extract of a Letter from on board the Argyle Man of War, July 21, at Anchor under the Iſles of Bayonne.

'Being ordered by Sir John Norris to look into Ferrol, 'Corunna and Rondella, the Bays between Cape Prior and 'Hercules Tower, we performed it in four Days, and took a 'Spaniſh Brigantine, and put four more on Shore; In our 'Return ſpoke with a Portugueſe; ſhe came the Night be'fore out of Camirina, and left there a Sloop from New'England carried in by a Spaniſh Privateer. On the 17th 'we got off the Harbour Camirina, and ſent our Boats in; 'on Sight of them the Sloop run on Shore, being Ebb Tide, 'but after a ſharp Diſpute, in which we had one Man kill'd, 'we boarded and took her; but not being able to get her 'away, burnt her. The 18th we met a Portugueſe, on 'board of which we found a Pilot, which we wanted: The 'Portugueſe told us there was no Ship at Vigo, but at Ro'dondello there was a very rich Ship with bale Goods from 'London, and three or four more Ships, brought in Prizes. 'We ſent immediately for the Gibraltar and Grampus, and 'came to a Reſolution, at all Events, for Rodondello. 'At Day-light having taken this Portugueſe Pilot, and it 'proving calm, in the Morning we ſaw a Spaniſh Bark about '40 Tons, and one about 30: We attack'd them with our 'Boats, took the largeſt and put the other aſhore, and ſet 'her on Fire. This diſcover'd us to the whole Country, and 'prevented our Project of running up with French Colours. 'About Ten came in a freſh Sea-Breeze: We weigh'd, and 'with Engliſh Colours proceeded up the River, having gi'ven Orders to take no Notice of Vigo, but puſh on; ac'cordingly at four in the Afternoon we got into the Harbour 'or Baſon of Rodondello, and anchor'd within Piſtol ſhot 'of the Ships, and took them all, being four, viz. the Por'tugueſe Ship with bale Goods, a Brigantine from Carolina 'with Rice, and a Brigantine and a Snow laden with Coals: 'And though they had cut ſome of the Cables, and run 'a-ground, we got them all off, and by Twelve that Night 'under our Sterns; the Portugueſe Ship and two Colliers 'were unrigg'd, no Sails on board, but theſe Deficiencies 'were ſupplyed out of our Ships; and got them all ready to 'ſail by Ten the next Morning, and by Noon, the Wind 'coming up Northerly, weigh'd, and with our five Prizes 'got to Anchor here at eight at Night. We ſhall diſpatch 'them tolerably equipp'd, under Convoy of the Gibraltar 'and Grampus for Oporto, this Afternoon, to be diſpoſed 'of; we in the Argyle to join Sir John Norris.

CHARLES-TOWN, SOUTH-CAROLINA, September 26.

By Capt. John Murray, Benjamin Paine and Mr. Thomas Poole (one of the Pilots of this Harbour) we have the following Information, that they with a Boy named William Bridges, having been conceal'd on board a French Sloop bound for Cape Francois, commanded by one Capt. Declare, made their Eſcape from the Havannah on the 3d Inſt. On the 9th the Sloop ſinking under them in the Lat. 31, and about 30 Leagues from Land, the whole Company conſiſting of 4 French, 4 Engliſh and 9 Spaniards got into a ſmall Boat of about eleven Feet Keel, with a quantity of Money, which they were ſoon after obliged to throw overboard. They ſcudded three Days before the Wind. On the 13th they eſpied two Sail which proved to be Capt. Smith and Capt. Chadſey, both from Briſtol bound to this Place; the former of which took on board ſeven of the Spaniards, and the latter took in all the reſt of the Company and brought them in here the 22d Inſt.

The above Perſons ſay, that there are above 200 Engliſh Men now Priſoners at Havannah, who are all (except Maſters of Veſſels) not only obliged to work, but ſeverely beat, inſomuch that one Man actually died thereby. That there is ſo great a Mortality amongſt both the Land and Sea Forces, that all the Hoſpitals being full with ſick Men, an additional one had been built; that there are now there 4 ſeventy Gun Ships and 7 ſixty Gun Ships, but moſt unfit for the Sea, it being computed that they have loſt above one half of their Men by Sickneſs; that the Admiral's Ship of 70 Guns which was ſtruck by Lightning in June laſt, and blew up, had 260 Barrels of Gun Powder on board of her; that two ſixty Gun Ships have been gone for ſome Time to La vera Cruz, to fetch nine Million Pieces of Eight: That the Number of the regular Forces in Havannah is but 2000 Foot and 400 Horſe; that the Soldiers complain greatly that they have not received any Pay for four Years, and many declare they chuſe to be under the Engliſh Government; that the Sailors alſo are greatly diſaffected to the Admiral. That they had Advice at Havannah, that Admiral Vernon with all the Land Forces that were in Health, and 5000 Jamaica Negroes on board his Ships, had enter'd and taken two Forts on the South ſide of Cuba, one 30 Leagues to Windward and the other to Leeward of St. Jago: that the Forces were landed and actually on their March for that Place: That the People of the Iſland came in to him, amongſt which, even an Officer and 50 Soldiers had departed over to him; that the Commander of St. Jago had preſſed the Governor at Havannah to ſend him Succours, but that he had ſent him none, only 200 Men down to Porto Prince.

The ſame Perſons give the following Deſcription of the Spaniſh Privateers, which now cruize from Cuba, upon the Coaſt of America.

A Settee rigg'd Ship Faſhion, about 110 Tons, 120 Men, 10 Carriage Guns ſix Pounders, and a great many Swivels, ſhort ground Maſts and very taunt Top-Maſts, a high cocked narrow Pink Stern, and a Prow at her Head about 6 or 7 Feet long.

A Snow Spaniſh built, about 100 Tons, having 120 Men, 14 Carriage Guns 6 Pounders, and 14 Swivels, a high cocked up Head, a waiſt Cloth all round to hide her Ports, freezed with black and yellow Paint, her Oars upon the Quarter, and ſails badly upon a Wind.

A Scooner Spaniſh built, about 80 Tons, having 80 Men, 8 Carriage Guns and about 16 Swivels, long and low, two Top-Sail-Yards rigged, her Sides painted blue, and Streaks yellow.

A Sloop Rhode-Iſland built, about 90 Tons, having 100 Men, 10 or 12 Carriage Guns beſides Swivels, her Sides painted blue, ſquare Stern with four Windows.

A Sloop Bermudas built, about 70 Tons, having 90 Men, 6 Carriage and 12 Swivel Guns, very ſharp built, Maſt rakes much aft, two Windows only in her Stern, her Quarters painted green, Mouldings yellow and Sides black, and is a Prime Sailor.

A Sloop Maryland built, about 50 Tons, having 70 Men, 6 Carriage and ſeveral Swivel Guns, high Stern, her Sides painted yellow, and Mouldings white.

A Sloop Virginia built, about 50 or 60 Men, ſix four Pounders and 40 Swivels and Patteraroes, her Maſt right up, Sides painted yellow, and ſits low in the Water.
